“A major fight over the next 4 years will be over who is and is not allowed to be heard on the internet, and who wields the power to police discourse”

Throughout the Obama-Biden reign and especially as it came to a close, Obama administration officials flooded into Silicon Valley, taking top jobs at Google, Facebook, Twitter, Amazon, and other Big Tech entities. Now Biden is tapping the Obama admin-Silicon Valley revolving door for top spots in his administration.

The cozy relationship and revolving door between the Obama-Biden admin and Big Tech was well-documented. Here's just a sampling:

Obama-Biden admin alums swarmed into Silicon Valley, and now Biden is turning to Big Tech to fill key roles in his transition landing teams and in his administration.

There's a lot of sensitivity among progressives and some conservatives to the Biden admin tapping leaders with ties to Silicon Valley. These four were part of the Obama admin before going to work for tech companies.

It's no accident that the Democrat/Media/Big Tech axis is working overtime to suppress news, opinion, viewpoints that don't toe the Democrat line and socialist/communist agenda. They are, after all, going to be richly rewarded. Banana republic style.

If, during an election, tech giants take unprecedented steps to censor the internet to prevent the spread of incriminating reporting about a candidate, then of course that candidate, upon winning, should turn key government posts over to them.

Anything else would be ungrateful. <https://t.co/AFgWrpjuBF>

The social media giants censor your political opponent during the elections – so you reward them with cushy jobs inside government when the election is over.

This is banana republic stuff. Our democracy will not survive it. <https://t.co/IhQTfz2dEt>

Some of the wokesters are quitting their jobs in protest that Facebook is not sufficiently suppressing any and all dissent—including mainstream right-wing platforms—as anti-democracy “hate speech.”

Important article from @BuzzFeedNews. It's about how many Facebook employees believe that content from mainstream right-wing sites — eg, Fox and @DailyCaller — is “hate speech,” and must be censored from the platform. They're quitting in protest: <https://t.co/wfXUK1Zza9>

A major fight over the next 4 years will be over who is and is not allowed to be heard on the internet, and who wields the power to police discourse.

The people who spent 4 years screaming “Fascism!” ironically want the US Govt & tech giants to unite to censor their adversaries.

None of this bodes well for the right, center-right, conservatives or anyone else who is skeptical about the radical left's plan to remake America and “build back better” while silencing anyone who dares challenge—or even question—these disastrous unAmerican policies.

If you haven't already, start preparing now for the great decoupling.
